policies.

If Tenant occupies the Property after the Ending Date or end of any Renewal Term, Tenant will be considered a holdover tenant and will be causing Landlord financial harm ("damages"). These damages will be equal to the monthly Rent plus _____ %, prorated on a daily basis, plus any additional financial costs, including but not limited to eviction costs and reasonable attorney's fees that may be awarded by a court, incurred as a result of the tenant holding over. These damages are separate from and in addition to Landlord's right to seek reimbursement for any physical destruction to the Property caused by Tenant, Tenant's family, or Tenant's guests.

254 28. DEATH OF TENANT DURING LEASE TERM

- (A) If Tenant dies during the Term, or any Renewal Term, of this Lease and Tenant's personal property remains in the Property, the personal property will not be considered abandoned as defined in the Landlord and Tenant Act.
